What changed for Maria and Nikos

	BEFORE	WITH KULURI
Finding workers	chaotic	smooth
Terms	spoken	agreed & tracked
Proof	lacking	inmutable

Next Harvest

Nikos: “Hi, Maria! I just saw your post. I’m available!”

Maria: “Great! Please check the agreement, and see you at the harvest!”

Clear agreements, successful harvests.

BUSINESS MODEL

Who pays, how much, and how Kuluri grows.

Workers free. Employers subscribe.

One season pass · unlimited agreements · no fee per agreement

WHO	WHAT THEY GET	PRICE
Workers	Profile, jobs, own agreements	Always €0
Farmers	Unlimited agreements + shared records	First season free then €25 / season
Co-ops	One plan for all member farms → full crews, bigger harvest	Year 1 free then €5 / member / year

The first season is free on purpose: we earn trust before we charge.

Grants launch us. Subscriptions keep us running. Workers always free.

Why it works: a small price, paid by many

€25

per farm, per season
Workers pay €0

Year 4

profitable
without grants

4,600

paying farms
in Year 5

+€43k

profit in Year 5
(revenue €119k)

€40k in grants carries us to Year 4. Then farmers keep Kuluri running.

Small price × many farms = a business that lasts.

Illustrative model · 9,000 farms by Year 5 (about 1 in 3 Cretan farms that hire) · co-ops €150 / year
